2. ASIC Benchmarks and Disclosure Principles

The ASIC Benchmarks and Disclosure Principles (contained in ASIC's regulatory guide 240) outlined below are key risk areas that investors should understand before making a decision to invest into the Fund.

Disclosure Benchmarks for the Fund

Description of requirement	Is this Benchmark met?	Further Information
1. Valuation of assets
The Responsible Entity has and implements a policy requiring valuations of the fund's assets that are not exchange traded to be provided by an independent administrator or an independent valuation service provider.	The Fund meets this benchmark. The Fund's assets that are not exchange traded are valued by the Fund's independent administrator, SSAL in accordance with our Securities Valuation Policy. Where the Fund has exposure to an underlying fund, we value that fund using an independent source.	Section 3 and 8
2. Periodic reporting
The Responsible Entity has and implements a policy to provide periodic reports on certain key information relating to the Fund on an annual and monthly basis.	The Fund meets this benchmark. The Responsible Entity will make the monthly and annual reports available on our website https://russellinvestments.com/au . The annual reports will also be sent to you if you are a Retail Client.	Section 10

The ASIC Disclosure Principles require responsible entities of hedge funds to provide information about the following matters in disclosures to Retail Clients.

1. Investment Strategy

The Fund invests predominantly in Australian equities and unit trusts listed or about to be listed on the ASX. It may also invest in listed equities on foreign exchanges in situations where the securities are also, or have been, listed on the ASX. Other securities available for investment include exchange traded derivatives, over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives and cash equivalent instruments.

It is intended that the Fund will be fully invested in a diversified portfolio of at least 200 securities. Australian listed equities will typically be held in Australian dollars. Securities that are listed on foreign exchanges will be denominated in the currency of the relevant market.

Derivatives may be used to obtain or reduce exposure to securities and markets, to implement investment strategies and to manage risk. The Fund may engage in short selling of securities as part of its investment strategy in order to benefit from falling security prices. The use of derivatives and short selling will not result in the Fund being leveraged on a net basis, however the Fund may have gross exposure up to 150% of net asset value (NAV), including 25% in short positions and 125% total in long positions.

The Fund's ability to produce investment returns will be dependent on market return and the investment selection skills of the investment team. The success of the Fund's investment strategy will depend on market conditions and may be influenced by certain risk factors.

The specific risks associated with the Fund's investment strategy with an accompanying description of the Fund's risk management strategy are set out in detail in Section 5 of this PDS.

The Responsible Entity may, at its discretion, alter the Fund's investment objectives and strategy. Whilst there is no intention to change the Fund's investment strategy, we will notify you of any such changes.

Further information: Section 4 and 5

2. Investment Manager

Russell Investment Management Ltd is the investment manager of the Fund.

Symon Parish is primarily responsible for the management of the Fund, in conjunction with Andrew Zenonos. Symon is the Head of Multi-Asset Portfolio Management for the Asia-Pacific region. Andrew Zenonos is an Associate Portfolio Manager focusing on Australasian equities. They are suitably qualified and experienced in the management of the Fund. Symon will dedicate upwards of 10% of his time and Andrew will dedicate upwards of 40% of his time to the implementation of the Fund's investment strategy.

In order to achieve the Fund's objectives, multiple managers and strategies are adopted and implemented as a combined portfolio. RIM may appoint a number of different money managers (including other members of Russell Investments) (each an "investment manager" or "manager") to manage some or all of the assets of the Fund. We may also manage the Fund's assets ourselves. The Fund is actively managed and as such, the underlying investment managers are regularly reviewed and may be changed at any time to capture market opportunities. Current information about the underlying investment managers appointed by the Fund can be found on our website at <https://russellinvestments.com/au>.

Each investment manager's appointment is governed by a standard investment management agreement (IMA), which specifies the rights and obligations of the relevant parties, including the process of termination should the arrangement no longer be appropriate. We may also invest in underlying funds managed by RIM or third party investment managers ("underlying funds"). In such cases, we invest pursuant to the terms and conditions of the underlying fund's constitution and offer document, and we have the same rights and obligations as other investors in the underlying fund.

Further information about the underlying managers and the terms of their appointment can be found in Section 3 of this PDS.

Further information: Section 3

Symon Parish, Head of Multi-Asset Portfolio Management for the Asia-Pacific region, is responsible for the management of the Fund.

3. Fund Structure

The Fund is an unlisted Australian registered managed investment scheme (MIS). Russell Investment Management Ltd is the Responsible Entity of the Fund. You can find further information about MIS in Section 8.

The key service provider involved in the operation of the Fund is SSAL. SSAL has been appointed as custodian and administrator of the Fund, and is Australian based.

The Responsible Entity monitors SSAL's compliance with its obligations under relevant service agreements and applicable laws by requiring weekly service meetings and reporting, quarterly compliance attestations, and bi-annual service reviews.

MBL is the securities borrowing counterparty for the securities that the Fund borrows. You can find more information about this arrangement in Section 3.

In addition, the Responsible Entity has engaged Russell Investments Implementation Services LLC (RIIS), a related party based in Seattle, USA to provide implementation and execution services for the Fund on an arm's length basis. You can find further information about related party payments in Section 7 of this PDS.

The Fund and the compliance plan for the Fund are required to be audited annually. We have appointed PwC as auditor to the Fund and its compliance plan.

You can find further information about key service providers and a diagram showing the flow of investment money through the Fund's structure in Section 3.

Further information: Section 3, 5 and 7

4. Valuation, location and custody of assets

The Fund's assets are generally valued daily by the Fund's administrator, SSAL, at the current market value.

In addition, the Responsible Entity has and implements a Securities Valuation Policy, which governs the valuation of the securities of the Fund in accordance with our legal obligations.

Key aspects of the valuation policy include:

- pricing sources for all exchange-traded assets;
- valuation methods to be used by the administrator;
- factors to be considered by the administrator when undertaking a valuation; and
- how valuations of securities for which market quotations are not readily available will be dealt with.

Asset values are determined from an independent source, or by the administrator in consultation with the Responsible Entity and investment manager and in accordance with industry standards.

The NAV of the Fund is established in accordance with the process set out in the Constitution.

The types of assets that the Fund does or may invest in include Australian listed equities, Australian unlisted equities, international listed equities, cash equivalent instruments, OTC derivatives and exchange traded derivatives. The allocation range for each of these asset types can be found in section 4.

All assets will be custodied in Australia in segregated custodial accounts provided by SSAL, the custodian for the Fund. Assets that are listed in a foreign market are held in segregated custodial accounts through a sub-custodian of SSAL in that market. There may be risks associated with holding assets through third party service providers such as a custodian. These risks are outlined in Section 5. In addition to the above arrangements, the Responsible Entity may also hold some of the assets of the Fund, in accordance with its licence and the terms of the Constitution.

Further information Sections 3, 4, 5 and 8

5. Liquidity

The Responsible Entity reasonably expects that it will be able to realise at least 80% of the assets of the Fund, at the value ascribed to those assets in calculating the Fund's NAV, within 10 days.

Further information: Section 8

6. Leverage

The Fund is exposed to leverage through its use of short selling strategies only. See disclosure principle 8 for an explanation of short selling. Other than this, the Fund does not borrow money to generate leverage.

Where the Fund is exposed to leverage through its use of short selling, it can become leveraged on a gross basis, but it will not be leveraged on a net basis. The maximum amount of short selling permitted for the Fund is 25% of the NAV of the Fund. The cash generated from short selling enables the Fund to extend its long exposure to securities to a maximum of 125% of the NAV of the Fund. Combined, the maximum gross exposure to securities is 150% of the NAV of the Fund.

The Fund currently runs at a gross exposure of approximately 120% of the NAV of Fund. This is comprised of approximately 110% in long positions, and approximately 10% in short positions. The Fund will provide collateral equal to the value of at least 100% of the value of the assets borrowed. The Fund may use cash, cash equivalents or shares as collateral. These assets are only encumbered to the extent that collateral is held as security against the value of the stock borrowed for short positions.

For more information and for an example of the impact of leverage on gains and losses please refer to Section 4.

Further information: Sections 4 and 5

7. Derivatives

The Fund is permitted to trade in both exchange-traded and over-the counter derivative instruments. Derivatives such as futures, options, swaps and forward contracts may be used by the Fund from time to time to:

- achieve a desired investment position without buying or selling the underlying asset;
- implement investment strategies;
- as a hedging mechanism to protect against changes in the market value of existing investments; or
- to manage actual or anticipated risk.

In particular, the Fund may use futures contracts to equitise cash holdings. Derivatives may also be used to create net short positions in specific underlying assets of the Fund.

We have procedures in place covering the use of OTC derivatives and managing counterparty risk. These include:

- assessing the creditworthiness of the counterparty to determine the potential risk and assigning them a rating accordingly;
- obtaining a credit report on the counterparty prior to initial dealings with it; and
- ensuring there is an appropriate contract in place between us and the counterparty.

We also monitor total exposure to counterparties against established limits on a regular basis. Information about the key risks associated with using derivatives is set out in Section 5 of this PDS.

Further information: Sections 4 and 5

8. Short selling

Short selling is an investment strategy employed by the Fund in order for the Fund to benefit from falling security prices.

MBL is the securities borrowing counterparty used to facilitate the Fund's short selling strategy. It is the Fund's only counterparty to any leveraged transactions (e.g. short selling). Where we invest in an underlying fund, short selling strategies may be used by the underlying fund's investment manager.

You can find further information about the Fund's short selling program in Section 4 of this PDS. Information about the risks of short selling and the Responsible Entity's associated risk management strategy are set out in Section 5.

Further information: Sections 4 and 5

9. Withdrawals

The Fund generally processes withdrawal requests each business day.

Daily withdrawal requests must be received by the administrator by 12:00pm Sydney time on any business day. The process for making withdrawals and the limitations in relation to withdrawals, for example, where the Fund is illiquid are set out in Section 8 of this PDS.

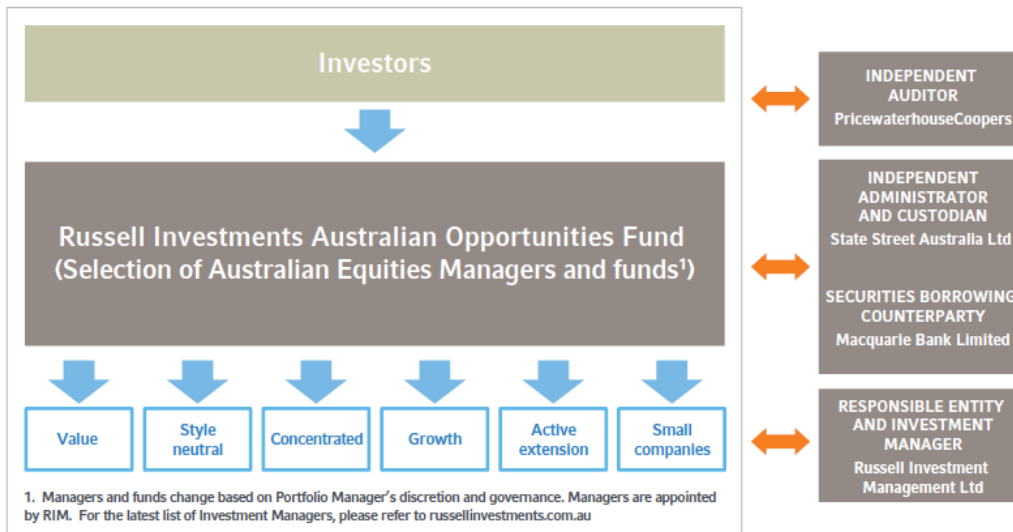

We will notify you in writing of any changes to the Fund's withdrawal requirements, including if your withdrawal rights are suspended.

You can find more information about withdrawing from the Fund in section 8 of this PDS.

We devote significant resources and expertise to identifying the most effective strategies and exposures to achieve the Fund's objective. The Fund's Portfolio Manager is responsible for identifying investment managers based on a rigorous research process that is unlimited by location, ownership structure, investment approach, availability on exchanges or management responsibility.

Symon Parish is primarily responsible for the management of the Fund, in conjunction with Andrew Zenonos. They are suitably qualified and experienced in the management of the Fund. Underlying Investment Managers Underlying investment managers to the Fund are subject to a rigorous selection process. The selection and monitoring process is conducted by our experienced investment team.

Once selected, investment managers are monitored continuously to ensure the 'fit' and to ensure that their strategies continue to align with the objectives of the Fund. Hence there is a constant evaluation of styles and investment processes in order to reaffirm confidence in managers and to review potential replacements. In this respect, there is very close communication between the portfolio manager, the manager research analysts and the underlying managers themselves. This process seeks to identify opportunities to improve the manager line-up as new talent emerges.

We also use qualitative and quantitative techniques to monitor managers. Specifically we examine performance, the manager's organisation (especially key portfolio management staff) and whether the manager is abiding by their investment process and style. Quantitative tools are used to continually monitor the individual manager portfolios, as well as the combined portfolio.

Manager portfolios and performance against expectations is monitored at two levels: by the manager research analyst responsible for the sector, and by the Portfolio Manager responsible for the Fund. Regular reviews with the managers (generally quarterly) are used to assess portfolios and their performance, and to seek justification from managers when they diverge from expectations.

Each investment manager's appointment is governed by an IMA, which specifies the rights and obligations of the relevant parties, including the process of termination should the arrangement no longer be appropriate. We are able to terminate any investment manager's appointment under an IMA at any time subject to contractual notice periods. Termination in these circumstances is without payment of any penalty.

We may also invest in underlying funds managed by third party investment managers. In such cases, we invest pursuant to the terms and conditions of the underlying fund's constitution and offer document, and we have the same rights and obligations as other investors in the underlying fund.

Because the Fund is actively managed, and the underlying investment managers and underlying funds are regularly reviewed, we can change the investment managers and/or underlying funds of the Fund at any time without notice.

Current information about underlying investment managers can be found on our website at <https://russellinvestments.com/au/disclosures>. You can contact us if you would like a paper copy of this information free of charge.

4. How the Fund Invests

Investment objective

The Fund aims to significantly outperform its benchmark (before costs and tax) over the long term by providing exposure to a diversified portfolio of predominantly Australian shares.

Recommended Investment Timeframe

The recommended investment timeframe for the Fund is seven years.

Fund Suitability

The Fund is suitable for investors with a long-term investment horizon who are seeking share-like returns. Investors must be willing to accept the possibility of negative returns over the short to medium term.

Investment Strategy

The Fund invests predominantly in shares and unit trusts listed or about to be listed on the ASX. The Fund may also invest in listed equities on foreign exchanges in situations where the securities are also, or have been, listed on the ASX.

The Fund may also engage in short selling of securities. Derivatives may be used to obtain or reduce exposure to securities and markets, to implement investment strategies and to manage risk. You can find more information about short selling, derivatives and leverage below.

In order to achieve its investment objective, the Fund utilises multiple investment managers and strategies to reduce 'scenario risk'. These multiple strategies are in the form of multiple investment styles (e.g. growth, value and style neutral). Managers within the Fund specialise in a diverse range of alternative and higher risk strategies and select products including active extension, small capitalisation, absolute return and concentrated portfolios not normally available to many investors.

The Fund's ability to produce investment returns will be dependent on market return and the investment selection skills of the investment team. The success of the Fund's investment strategy will depend on market conditions and may be influenced by certain risk factors. You can find more information about risk factors in Section 5 of this PDS.

Investment Management

As well as appointing investment managers to manage the assets of the Fund, we, or other members of Russell Investments, may directly manage a portion of the assets of the Fund or of an underlying fund in which the Fund is invested.

We may alter the Fund's investment objectives and strategy at any time. Whilst there is no current intention to change the Fund's investment strategy, we will notify you of any changes.

Diversification and Holdings

It is intended that the Fund will be fully invested in a diversified portfolio of at least 200 securities. Australian listed equities will typically be held in Australian dollars. Assets that are listed on foreign exchanges will be denominated in the currency of the relevant market.

The typical asset type in which the Fund invests are Australian listed equities, exchange traded derivatives, OTC derivatives and cash equivalent instruments.

Exposure	(% of NAV)
Australian listed equities	80 – 100
International listed equities	0 – 20
Derivatives:
Exchange traded	0 – 20
OTC	0 – 10
Cash	0 – 10

Derivatives

Derivatives such as futures, options, swaps and forward contracts may be used by the Fund from time to time to:

- achieve a desired investment position without buying or selling the underlying asset;
- implement investment strategies;
- as a hedging mechanism to protect against changes in the market value of existing investments; or
- to manage actual or anticipated risk.

In particular, the Fund may use futures contracts to equitise cash holdings.

Derivatives may also be used to create net short positions in specific underlying assets of the Fund.

Where the Fund has foreign currency exposures it may use derivatives to manage currency exposure.

Leverage

The Fund is exposed to leverage through its use of short selling strategies only. The Fund borrows securities from MBL to facilitate its short selling strategy.

The fund has no material borrowings.

Short selling

The Fund may undertake short selling as an investment strategy. Differing from traditional equity funds which generally take only long positions, it may simultaneously hold both long and short positions.

The Fund may borrow securities from its counterparty MBL. In exchange, the Fund will provide collateral equal to the value of at least 100% of the value of the assets borrowed. The Fund may use cash, cash equivalents or shares as collateral. These assets are only encumbered to the extent that collateral is held as security against the value of the stock borrowed for short positions.

In taking a long position (buying a share with the expectation that the share will rise in value or outperform) the Fund aims to gain from a company which it believes will increase in share price.

Short positions (selling a borrowed share with the expectation that the share will fall in value or underperform, with an agreement to purchase an identical share back at a later date) are taken against companies the Fund believes will decrease in share price relative to other companies, with the aim of profiting from this decline in share price.

Short selling and leverage example

If the Fund borrows 100 shares, and sells those shares for $50 per share, the Fund would receive $5,000 in sale proceeds. If the price of the share subsequently falls to $40 per share, the Fund can buy back the 100 shares it borrowed at $40 per share ($4,000) and return the 100 shares to the lender. Excluding any borrowing expenses, the Fund would have made a gain of $1,000. However, if the price of the share increases to $100 per share, the Fund would be required to buy back the 100 shares at $100 per share ($10,000) making a loss of $5,000, excluding any borrowing expenses incurred.

The maximum net investable exposure for the Fund is 100% however as the Fund's long and short position limits are 125% and 25% respectively, the exposure of $1 invested long may be magnified up to the value of $1.25. Conversely, the value of $1 invested short may be concurrently exposed up to $0.25.

ESG considerations

Russell Investments employs a disaggregated ranking system in its manager research process that incorporates factors that we believe impact the manager's ability to generate returns for our clients. We have an ethical, social and governance rank (ESG) which considers labour standards and environmental considerations. This rank is then incorporated into:

- (a) our manager evaluation process in order to determine whether the manager appropriately assesses the risk and return impacts of ESG issues on individual portfolio holdings and the overall portfolio construction process; and
- (b) our overall view of the investment manager.

There may be additional ESG exclusions in the underlying funds.

5. The Risks of Investing

Source: Russell Investment Management Ltd.

General risks

All investments carry risk. Different strategies may carry different levels of risk, depending on the assets that make up the strategy. Assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short term risk.

As with most investing, it is not guaranteed that you will make money from an investment in the Fund. The value of your investment can go up or down with the value of the underlying assets. The risks may result in loss of income, loss of principal invested and/or possible delays in repayment. You could receive back less than you invested and there is no guarantee that you will receive any income.

Growth investments (shares and property) have relatively higher risk, and higher expected return, than defensive investments (fixed interest and cash).

Short-term fluctuations in the value of investments are common, particularly with respect to growth-oriented investments. Different types of investments perform differently at different times and carry varying forms of risk.

The risk/return graph above indicates the relative position of each major asset class.

In relation to the Fund, the significant risks you should be aware of include:

Market risk

The performance of the Fund will depend on the performance and market value of the assets that it holds. Investments in securities and other financial instruments and products that are subject to market forces, risk the permanent loss of capital as a result of adverse market developments, which can be unpredictable.

Risk Management:

Market risk is managed by diversifying across investment managers, investment styles as well as individual securities.

Derivatives risk

The Fund is exposed to exchange-traded and OTC derivative instruments including but not limited to equity futures, options, swaps and currency forwards. Derivatives usually derive their value from the value of a physical asset, exchange rate or market index. They can be used to manage certain risks in investment portfolios; however, they can also expose a portfolio to additional risks. A risk, though not unique to derivatives, includes the possibility that the position is difficult or costly to reverse or that there is an adverse movement in the asset, exchange rate or index underlying the derivative, as derivatives do not always perfectly or even highly correlate or track the value of the assets or indices they are designed to track.

A derivative contract may involve leverage i.e. it provides exposure to a potential gain or loss from a change in the level of the market price of a security or basket index in a notional amount that exceeds the amount of cash or assets required to establish or maintain the derivative contract. Consequently, an adverse change in the relevant price level can result in a loss of capital that is more exaggerated than would have resulted from an investment that did not involve the use of leverage. Accordingly, derivative instruments can be highly volatile and expose investors to a high risk of loss.

Risk Management:

Futures and options transactions are typically conducted through regulated exchanges using listed instruments.

We have procedures in place covering the use of OTC derivatives. These include assessing the creditworthiness of the counterparty, obtaining a credit report on the counterparty and ensuring there is an appropriate contract in place between us and the counterparty.

Short selling risk

The Fund is exposed to short selling risk. This is where an asset is sold that the Fund does not actually own, with the aim of gains being made if the asset's price falls, and can be bought back later at a lower price. Short selling involves a higher level of risk than normal investment in shares. This is because when the Fund invests in shares the maximum loss is generally limited to the amount invested. With short positions, there is theoretically no limit on the loss because the loss will continue to increase as the price of the share increases.

Risk Management:

Short selling risk is managed through the use of MBL as a securities borrowing

counterparty, which greatly reduces credit risk as the long/short positions are held at the Fund's custodian. This also removes risks related to re-hypothecation and provides more control over its assets. Securities are borrowed from MBL. The collateral is transferred to MBL and could be re-hypothecated. The Fund's exposure is limited to the difference between the borrowed securities and the collateral transferred. In the event of default, the value of the borrowed securities and collateral transferred are netted against each other to determine which party has excess exposures.

The risk is also reduced through diversification between investment managers with long and short positions, limiting the size of short positions in the portfolio. The Fund limits the short positions to 25% of the NAV of the Fund.

Where we invest in an underlying fund, alternative sources of leverage may be used by the third party investment manager.

Counterparty & settlement risk

The Fund is exposed to counterparty and settlement risk. These risks are influenced by, amongst other things, market practices (e.g. settlement and custody practices) and the creditworthiness of the parties the Fund is exposed to.

Risk Management:

Counterparty risk is managed by monitoring exposures regularly against established limits for different counterparties, depending on each counterparty's creditworthiness. A regular credit report is sourced for each counterparty.

Other potential risks which the Fund may be exposed to include:

Liquidity risk:

The Fund may be exposed to assets that have restricted or limited liquidity. In extreme circumstances this may result in delays in processing withdrawal requests due to general market interruptions or inadequate market depth.

Operational Risk:

The Fund is subject to a number of operational risks. In particular, we rely on a number of key service providers to operate the Fund. Failure by these service providers to deliver the required services to the standards which are expected by the Responsible Entity, may adversely impact on the operation and performance of the Fund.

Currency risk:

Where the Fund has exposure to foreign assets it will be exposed to currency risk. Currency movements may affect the performance of the Fund.

Performance-related fee risk:

Performance-related fees may be charged by an underlying investment manager or underlying fund. Performance-related fees are based on realised and unrealised gains. Therefore, a performance-related fee may be paid on unrealised gains that may never subsequently be realised. In addition, performance-related fees may provide an incentive to make investments that carry more risk than those made in the absence of a performance-related fee.

Hostilities, terrorist and pandemic risks:

Acts of terrorist violence, political unrest, armed regional and international hostilities and international responses to these hostilities, natural disasters, global health risks or pandemics or the threat of or perceived potential for these events could have a negative impact on the performance of a Fund. These events could adversely affect levels of business activity and precipitate sudden significant changes in regional and global economic conditions and cycles. These events also pose significant risks to people and physical facilities and operations around the world.

A global pandemic may cause extreme volatility and limited liquidity in securities markets and such markets may be subject to governmental intervention. Certain Governments may impose restrictions on the manufacture of goods and the provision of services in addition to the free movement of persons. This may have a material impact on the activities of businesses, their profitability and their ability to generate positive cash flow. In these market conditions there is a much higher risk of credit defaults and bankruptcies. As a result, this may have a material impact on the performance of a Fund, result in greater market or liquidity risk, or cause difficulty valuing a Fund's assets or achieving a Fund's objective.

There is a possibility with the severe decline in economic activity and restrictions imposed, of disruption of electricity, other public utilities or network services, as well as system failures at facilities or otherwise affecting businesses which could adversely affect the performance of a Fund. A global pandemic may result in employees of Russell Investments and certain of the other service providers to the Fund to be absent from work or work remotely for prolonged periods of time. The ability of the employees of Russell Investments and/or other service providers to the Fund to work effectively on a remote basis may adversely impact the day to day operations of a Fund.

Political risk:

The Fund's investments may be affected by uncertainties such as political developments, or changes in government policies.

Regulatory risk:

There may be a change in law or regulation affecting the Fund (such as taxation) at any time which could affect your investment in the Fund.

Fund risk:

As the Fund is a managed investment scheme, there are a number of risks. These include risk that the Fund may terminate under the terms of its Constitution, the terms, fees and charges could change, the Constitution could be amended or we could be replaced as Responsible Entity of the Fund.

To manage your risks, you should obtain professional investment advice that is tailored to your investment objectives, financial situation and particular needs. A proper risk assessment should take into account your age, your investment timeframe, your risk tolerance and the other investments that you hold.

6. Fees and Costs

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100 000 to $80 000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You may be able to pay lower contribution fees and management costs where applicable. Ask the responsible entity or your financial planner.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed funds fee calculator to help you check out the different fee options.

The table on page 24 shows the fees and other costs that you may be charged for the Fund. These fees and costs may be deducted from your account balance, from the returns on your investment or from the Fund's assets as a whole.

You should read all the information about fees and costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

Similar information will be included in PDSs for other MISs so that you can compare the Fund's fees and costs with those of other MISs.

Types of Fees or Cost	Amount	How and when paid
Fees when you move money in or out of the Fund
Establishment fee: This is the fee to set up your account with the Fund.	Nil	Not applicable
Contribution fee: This is the fee for the initial and every subsequent investment you make to the Fund.	Nil	Not applicable
Withdrawal fee: This is the fee charged for each withdrawal you make from the Fund (including any instalment payments and the final payment).	Nil	Not applicable
Exit Fee: This is the fee when you close your account with the Fund.	Nil	Not applicable
Management costs: The fees and costs for managing your investment
Management costs	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Management fee (including Responsible Entity Fee) - 1.05% p.a. • Indirect costs (including expense recoveries) - 0.06% p.a. • Performance-related fees - 0.08% Refer to the section titled "Additional explanation of fees and costs" on page 25 for more information.	Management costs are paid directly from the assets of the Fund or underlying fund and are reflected in the daily unit price when declared. Management costs are quoted on a GST inclusive basis and take into account any available reduced input tax credits. The management costs do not include transactional and operational costs or other costs that you would incur if you invested directly in the underlying assets of the Fund.

7. Additional explanation of fees and costs

The following information has been provided to help you understand the Fees and Costs section.

Example of annual fees and charges for a balanced investment choice

This table gives an example of how the fees and costs of the Fund can affect your investment over a one year period. You should use this table to compare this product with other managed investment products.

Example: Russell Investments Australian Opportunities Fund		Balance of $50,000 with total contributions of $5,000 during the year
Contribution fees	Nil	For every $5,000 you put in, you will be charged $0.
PLUS Management costs	1.20% p.a.	And , for every $50,000 you have in the Fund you will be charged $600 each year.
EQUALS Cost of fund		If you had an investment of $50,000 at the beginning of the year and you put in an additional $5,000 during that year, then for that year you will be charged fees of $600* . What it costs you will depend on the investment option you choose and the fees you negotiate with your Fund or financial adviser.

* Note: This assumes that the $50,000 is invested for the entire year, the value of the investment is constant over the year and that the additional $5,000 is invested on the last day of the year. Please note this is an example only. In practice your actual investment balance will vary daily, and hence the actual management costs charged, will also vary daily. This example does not take into account the buy/sell spread.

 Management costs are expressed as a percentage of the Fund's net assets. Management costs may not equal the management fee plus indirect costs and performance-related fees (if any) due to rounding.

Changes in Fees and Costs

We have the right to change the fees and costs described in this PDS at any time, without your consent. Any increase in the Fund's fees and costs will be communicated to you at least thirty days before it occurs.

The Constitution allows us to receive a management fee of up to 2% p.a. and charge a contribution fee of up to 4%, a buy-sell spread and a switching fee of up to 1%.

Currently, we receive lower management fees, charge buy-sell spreads, and do not charge a contribution or switching fee. We may change the fees or the basis for charging expenses but will notify you first.

Management costs

Management costs include:

- a management fee;
- indirect costs (including expense recoveries of the Fund and underlying funds); and

- performance-related fees (if applicable).

These amounts are payable out of Fund assets or the assets of underlying funds in which the Fund may invest and are reflected in the unit price. Management costs may not equal the management fee plus indirect costs and performance-related fees (if any) due to rounding.

Indirect costs and performance-related fees are estimated based on the amounts incurred by the Fund or the underlying funds for the financial year ending 30 June 2020.

Management costs do not include transactional and operational costs and other costs that an investor would incur if the investor invested directly in the underlying assets. More information on transactional and operational costs is set out below under the heading “Transactional and Operational Costs”.

Management Fee

RIM charges an investment management fee for managing and operating the Fund and a Responsible Entity fee. These fees accrue daily and are generally payable to us quarterly.

Indirect Costs

Indirect costs are generally any amount the Responsible Entity knows or estimates will reduce the Fund's returns that are paid from the Fund's assets or the assets of underlying funds. Indirect costs include:

Expense recoveries (including taxes)

All expenses relating to the proper performance of our duties as Responsible Entity of the Fund are recoverable from the Fund, including but not limited to custody, administration, registry costs, GST (less any reduced input tax credits), legal fees, reporting and audit expenses.

Other Indirect Costs

Other indirect costs include, but are not limited to:

- management costs (comprising management fees, expense recoveries and performance-related fees (if any)) of the underlying funds; and
- a reasonable estimate of the management costs (if any) of investing in over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives used for investment exposure purposes (both at the Fund level or in the underlying funds).

Transaction costs of all OTC derivatives are set out below under the heading “Transactional and operational costs”.

Performance-related fees

Performance-related fees may be charged by the underlying funds or the investment managers in the Fund if they meet specific investment performance targets.

Performance-related fees provide an incentive for investment managers and underlying funds to achieve superior performance.

Investment managers may earn a performance-related fee irrespective of the Fund's overall performance (see example below). A performance-related fee is only payable to the extent that past underperformance by the investment manager has been recovered.

Please note that past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance and it is impossible to accurately forecast the performance-related fees that will be payable.

Performance-related fees are based on realised and unrealised gains. Therefore, a performance-related fee may be paid on unrealised gains that may never subsequently be realised. Performance-related fees are accrued daily. The table below shows the management costs, inclusive and exclusive of performance-related fees (where applicable) for the Fund for the 12-month period to 30 June 2018.

Management costs (excluding performance-related fees)	Performance-related fees (for 12-month period to 30 June 2020)	Management costs (including performance-related fees)
1.05%	0.08%	1.20%

Performance-related fee Examples

The following examples illustrate when performance-related fees may be payable in different situations. The examples relate to a hypothetical Australian shares fund with two managers – Manager A and Manager B – each of which manages a portfolio comprising 50% of the fund's assets.

Manager A and Manager B have identical performance-related fee arrangements. The performance-related fee is calculated as 25% of the return (net of fees) of the portfolio above the hurdle rate of return. The hurdle rate of return is the benchmark (S&P/ASX 300 Accumulation Index) plus 2%. A performance-related fee is only payable to the extent that past underperformance by the investment manager has been recovered.

Generally, a performance-related fee will not be payable unless the investment manager or the underlying fund (whichever is relevant) has achieved a return in excess of the relevant hurdle rate, and unless any past underperformance has been recovered.

Please note that a performance-related fee may be payable to an investment manager or underlying fund that has satisfied its individual performance fee criteria even at times when the Fund as a whole has underperformed its benchmark.

Examples	Performance-related fees payable?
Both Manager A and Manager B outperform the hurdle rate of return Fund outperforms its benchmark	Yes Both Manager A and Manager B receive a performance-related fee
Manager A outperforms the hurdle rate of return Manager B significantly underperforms the benchmark Fund underperforms its benchmark	Yes Manager A receives a performance-related fee
Both Manager A and Manager B outperform the hurdle rate of return, but they both have past underperformance that has not yet been recovered Fund outperforms its benchmark	No
Both Manager A and Manager B outperform the benchmark but underperform the hurdle rate of return Fund outperforms its benchmark	No

Transactional and operational costs

In managing the investments of the Fund, transactional and operational costs such as brokerage, settlement costs, clearing costs, government taxes and charges, buy-sell spreads of underlying funds, and bid/offer spreads may be incurred. Transaction costs of over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives may also be incurred by the Fund or an underlying fund. These transactional and operational costs are in addition to other costs you may incur as an investor in the Fund. The amount of transactional and operational costs will vary from year to year depending on the type, size and frequency of transactions.

The information in the table below is our estimate of the transactional and operational costs incurred by the Fund for the financial year ending 30 June 2020, presented as a percentage of the Fund's net assets.

As the Fund retains the buy/sell spreads applied to investor applications and withdrawals, we have also provided our estimate of the amount recouped by the Fund. This represents an offset to the estimated transactional and operational costs. The resulting estimated net transactional and operational costs are borne by all investors in the Fund, and are reflected in the unit price.

Estimated total transactional and operational costs (% p.a.) ¹	Estimated costs recouped through buy/sell spread (% p.a.)	Estimated net transactional and operational costs (% p.a.) ²
0.77%	0.03%	0.74%

Buy/sell spread

The difference between the unit price and the entry price is called the 'buy spread'. The difference between the unit price and the exit price is called the 'sell spread'. The buy/sell spread covers our estimate of the transaction costs (such as brokerage and settlement costs) of buying or selling underlying assets when you invest into or withdraw from the Fund. The buy/sell spread is retained by the Fund, not by us or the underlying managers.

Where there is a significant aggregate application or aggregate withdrawal from a fund (i.e. by one or more investors), the market costs of buying or selling securities may be significantly higher than the stated buy-sell spread. Russell Investments retains discretion to allocate full market costs associated with a large transaction to the transacting investor(s) to ensure non-transacting investors are not significantly adversely affected.

We reserve the right to change the buy/sell spread for the Fund at any time. For updated information visit <https://russellinvestments.com/au/disclosures>.

The table below provides a hypothetical example of how the cost of the buy-sell spread can affect a $10,000 application for units that is subsequently withdrawn from the fund. For simplicity, the daily unit price for the Fund is assumed to be constant at $1.00 per unit.

Assume the Fund currently has a buy spread of 0.30% and a sell spread of 0.30%. This means that the "entry price" of a unit would be 0.30% higher than the daily unit price (ie $1.0030 per unit), and the "exit price" would be 0.30% lower than the daily unit price (ie $0.9970 per unit).

On a $10,000 application at the entry price of $1.0030 per unit, an investor would receive 9,970 units. These units would be worth $9,970 at the daily unit price of $1.00 per unit.

Application fee	Entry Price (daily unit price plus buy spread)	No of units issued
$10,000	$1.0030 per unit ($1 + ($1 x 0.0030))	9,970

¹ This amount includes net transactional and operational costs incurred in any underlying funds, where applicable.

² This is the estimated percentage by which the Fund's investment return has been reduced by transactional and operational costs.

On a withdrawal of these 9,970 units at the exit price of $0.9970 per unit the investor would receive approximately $9,940.

No of units redeemed	Exit Price (daily unit price less sell spread)	Withdrawal amount
9,970	$0.9970 per unit ($1 - ($1 x 0.0030))	9,940

The example shows that the total cost of the 0.30% buy spread and a 0.30% sell spread for a $10,000 application is approximately $60 as the investor only receives $9,940 on withdrawal.

Please note this example is provided for illustrative purposes only. The actual cost to you of the buy-sell spread depends on the amount you invest into or withdraw from the Fund.

Different Fees

We may negotiate different fees with investors who are Wholesale Clients. Accordingly, we may waive or rebate some of our fees (or issue units in the Fund) to these 'Wholesale Clients so that they pay reduced fees. This is generally because they invest large amounts of money in the Fund. We cannot enter into individual fee arrangements with Retail Clients. Please contact us if you require further information.

Commissions and Other Benefits Received

We, or members of Russell Investments, may receive commissions and other benefits (e.g. research) from brokers in respect of trades for the Fund. These benefits may flow to the Fund and to other funds managed by us. We instruct the investment managers of the Fund to trade only with brokers who will provide best execution, regardless of whether these trades are placed with brokers related to us or not.

Related Party Payments

Members and affiliates of Russell Investments may receive fees on normal commercial terms for providing services to the Fund. In particular, Russell Investments Implementation Services LLC (RIIS), a related party of the Responsible Entity based in Seattle, USA provides implementation and execution services for the Fund on an arm's length basis. RIIS receives brokerage of up to 0.2% of the value of a trade for providing these services to the Fund.

Russell Investments engages an external company to provide comparative cost and best execution analysis on a regular basis, so as to ensure that the RIS services are provided on an arm's length basis.

As the abovementioned related party transaction occurs on an arm's length basis, unitholder approval is not required. We do not see any risks associated with this related party transaction other than normal arm's length business risks. The Responsible Entity has policies and procedures that govern related party transactions. Specifically the compliance plan for the Fund contains a section covering related party transactions and the Responsible Entity also has a conflicts policy that is relevant to such transactions.

Adviser Remuneration

Pursuant to the 'Grandfathering' provisions of the Future of Financial Advice (FoFA) reforms, we may continue to pay adviser remuneration, until 31 December 2020 to Australian financial services licensees and/or their representatives who recommended the Fund to you before 1 July 2014. We will pay any adviser remuneration out of our fee, so it does not represent any additional cost to you.

Adviser Service Fees

Your financial adviser may negotiate an adviser service fee with you. If you invested in the Fund through the Russell Private Investment Series and if agreed between you and your adviser, we will facilitate the payment of the adviser service fee by periodically withdrawing a certain number of your units and paying the proceeds to your adviser. Please refer to the Statement of Advice provided to you by your financial adviser for full details of any applicable adviser remuneration or adviser service fees.

Records of alternative forms of remuneration that is not conflicted remuneration

Occasionally, we may provide benefits of small value to Australian financial services licensees and/or their representatives who recommend the Fund to Retail Clients such as professional development, sponsorship and entertainment for financial advisers and dealer groups, where the law permits. The cost of any alternative remuneration will be paid out of our investment management fee, so it does not represent any additional cost to you. We maintain records of these benefits as required by the Corporations Regulations. These records will be provided to you on request within one month and we may charge a reasonable cost for obtaining and giving the particulars to you.

Payments to platforms

We may make payments to platform operators that distribute the Fund. Any such payments will be paid out of our investment management fee, so it does not represent an additional cost to you.

Updated information

The indirect costs, performance-related fees and transactional and operational costs as described in this PDS are based on the knowledge or reasonable estimates of the Responsible Entity. These estimates may be based on a number of factors including previous financial year information and information provided by investment managers and/or underlying funds.

These fees and costs are subject to change from time to time. Updated information that is not materially adverse to investors will be updated online at <https://russellinvestments.com/au> or you may obtain a paper copy of any updated information from us free of charge on request.

Taxes

Information about taxes is set out on page 38 of this PDS

8. Investing in the Fund

The Fund is a managed investment scheme (MIS) registered with the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC). 'Interests' in a scheme are 'financial products' and are governed by the Corporations Act 2001 and the constitution of the MIS. When you invest in the Fund, your money is pooled with investments from other investors and used to buy assets for the Fund, which we manage on behalf of all investors. We, rather than you, have control over the Fund's assets, management and operation. Your investment is not a direct investment in any particular asset of the Fund and does not give you an interest in it.

Retail Clients - Investing through a platform

You can invest in Units through platforms. We authorise the use of the PDS as a disclosure document for people who wish to access the Fund indirectly through these platforms.

To invest, Indirect Investors must complete the application forms provided by the platform operator. Indirect Investors will receive reports from their platform operator, not us.

For Indirect Investors and you have a complaint about us or the Fund itself, contact your platform operator who is required to take reasonable steps to facilitate dispute resolution between investors and financial product issuers, such as RIM. Alternatively, you can access our dispute resolution system via the contact details in the PDS.

To withdraw, Indirect Investors need to contact their platform operator for instructions.

To invest or withdraw, platform operators need to follow the same steps as Wholesale Clients.

Indirect Investors do not themselves become investors in the Fund. Instead it is generally the platform operator who invests on behalf of Indirect Investors and who has the rights of an investor in the Fund. Platform operators exercise those rights or not in accordance with their arrangements with the Indirect Investor.

Some provisions of the Constitution and the PDS are not relevant for Indirect Investors. For example, Indirect Investors cannot attend unitholder meetings or transfer units.

Any reference to 'you' in the PDS, unless otherwise indicated, should be construed by an Indirect Investor as a reference to the platform operator or any other person who is a Wholesale Client in the Fund.

Wholesale Client - Initial Investment

To make an initial investment in the Fund you need to firstly contact Russell Investments Fund Operations for instructions on how to invest. You will then need to complete the Application Form attached to this PDS and the forms contained in the Client Account Manual, which is available from Russell Investments Fund Operations to apply for units in the Fund.

Additional Investments

Please contact Russell Investments Fund Operations for instructions on how to make any additional investments.

Processing Applications

Generally, applications for units are processed each business day. If we receive your completed Application Form or additional investment instruction and application money by the 'cut off time' on a business day, we will generally process your application using the entry price for that business day. The 'cut off time' is 12:00 noon Sydney time.

The cut-off time for processing changes on a business day is 12:00 pm Australian EST.

If your application for units is received after the 'cut off time' or on a day which is not a business day, we will generally process your application using the entry price for the next business day.

Generally, we will send you a confirmation of your investment within 5 business days of us processing your application for units.

The Constitution allows us more time to process withdrawal requests and pay withdrawal monies than outlined above.

Application monies that have been received but are not able to be invested will be held without bearing interest for up to one month following receipt, after which time the monies will be returned to you.

Please note that we may, without giving any reason, refuse all or part of an application for units in the Fund.

Reinvestment of distributions occurs after a distribution has been declared and therefore the reinvestment may occur on a non business day if the distribution period ends on a non-business day.

When you invest directly you will be issued a number of Units in the Fund based upon the amount invested and the current entry price for Units. Entry prices for Units are determined in accordance with the Constitution based on the net asset value of Units (NAV) divided by the number of Units on issue in the Fund, plus any buy spread as referred to in section 7 of this PDS. The NAV for Units is calculated based on the assets of the Fund attributable to Class A units less the liabilities (including costs and expenses) of the Fund attributable to Class A units.

Your Units represent your proportionate share of the Fund and the value of your investment. As a result, each Unit has a dollar value or 'unit price'. In accordance with the Constitution we may create and issue additional classes of units in the Fund.

Unit prices in the Fund will vary as the market value of the assets of the Fund rises or falls.

You can increase your investment in the Fund at any time by applying for more Units in the Fund and decrease your investment by transferring or withdrawing some of your Units in the Fund.

Switching

You can request to switch between funds by sending us details of the funds you wish to switch from and to, the dollar amount, your name and your account ID. The request needs to be signed by the relevant authorised signatures.

If you are switching into a fund in which you have not previously held units, you will need to fill out the application form that accompanies the relevant fund PDS.

As a switch is a withdrawal from one fund and an application into another, there may be tax consequences. We recommend that you seek tax advice. Please note that buy-sell spreads will also apply.

Unit Prices and Valuation

We generally determine the Fund's entry and exit prices each business day. The unit prices for each class of units in the Fund are calculated using the net asset value of that class, divided by the number of units in that class. The entry and exit prices are the unit prices of that class adjusted for any buy-sell spreads.

Assets of the Fund are valued by an independent administrator, SSAL in accordance with our Securities Valuation Policy, usually at the current market value. The policy outlines our price source for all exchange traded assets.

The Fund does not typically hold non-exchange traded assets unless a particular asset becomes delisted after purchase or is purchased as part of an Initial Public Offering.

In these instances the Responsible Entity will request the independent administrator to apply fair value procedures in accordance with its Securities Valuation Policy and acceptable industry standards.

Where the Fund has exposure to underlying funds, we value the underlying fund using an independent source.

You can contact us for a copy of our policies on exercising discretions when calculating unit prices, free of charge.

Your Account Balance

Your account balance changes as investments are made and as investment returns are added. Fees, taxes, expenses, income and investment gains and losses will affect your account balance.

The unit price fluctuates in line with the market value of assets held in the Fund. Generally, if market values are going up, the unit price rises, and if market values are declining, the unit price falls.

If the unit price increases relative to the original unit price at which you received your units, you have made an investment gain and your account balance rises accordingly. If the unit price decreases, you've made an investment loss and your account balance will fall.

Making a Withdrawal

To withdraw your money, you will need to provide us with a written withdrawal request signed by authorised signatories. Please contact Russell Investments Fund Operations for more information on making a withdrawal from the Fund.

Generally, withdrawal requests are processed each business day. The 'cut off time' is 12:00 noon Sydney time. If we receive a withdrawal request by the 'cut off time' on a business day, we will generally process the request using the exit price for that day. If we receive a request after the 'cut off time' or on a day which is not a business day for us, we will generally process the request using the exit price for the next business day after we receive it.

Generally, withdrawal monies will be paid within 14 business days of us processing a withdrawal request. We will send you a transaction statement with details of your withdrawal.

The Constitution allows us more time to process withdrawal requests and pay withdrawal monies than outlined above.

Please note that whilst every endeavour is made to comply with the payment terms set out above, the Constitution provides that we have up to 30 days to process your withdrawal request (unless withdrawals are suspended), and up to 30 days to pay the withdrawal monies after the date your withdrawal request is processed.

Subject to certain conditions, we may transfer assets of the Fund to the investor in satisfaction of that withdrawal request.

The withdrawal conditions described above assume that the Fund is 'liquid' for the purposes of the Corporations Act 2001. We are currently of the view that the Fund is 'liquid'. Under the Corporations Act 2001, if the Fund is not liquid, we may offer investors the opportunity to withdraw from the Fund on a periodic basis, but we are not obliged to do so. Where no such offer is made, investors have no right to withdraw from the Fund.

Suspension of transactions

We may suspend the processing of application and withdrawal requests in certain circumstances including, for example, where it is impractical to calculate the exit price due to market closures or trading restrictions. Application and withdrawal requests received by us during a period of suspension and any redemption requests received but not redeemed before a period of suspension are deemed to be received on the first business day after cessation of the suspension.

Transferring units

All transfers must be made in the form that we require. We have the discretion to refuse to register any transfer of units in the Fund.

Contact Russell Investments Fund Operations for more information in relation to how you may transfer units in the Fund. A transfer may have tax implications. We recommend you seek legal and tax advice before requesting a transfer.

Fund income – when and how?

Any income of the Fund is usually distributed on a six monthly basis - within 30 business days after the end of June and December each year.

In addition to the six monthly distribution:

- where there are large withdrawals from the Fund on any one day, we may determine that part of a withdrawal amount payable consists of income. If this circumstance affects a withdrawal you have made, this will be advised to you in your annual tax statement.
- where there are large applications to the Fund on any one day, we may determine to calculate and pay a special distribution to all investors of the Fund. If this occurs, you will be issued with a distribution statement.

The distribution amount you will receive for Units will be the pro rata proportion of the income available for distribution to Units, calculated according to the number of Units you hold relative to the number of Units on issue at the relevant time. Unit prices may fall after a distribution is paid. If you invest just before income is distributed, you may find you quickly get back some of your capital as income.

Distributions are reinvested unless you elect otherwise. You can elect to have your distributions paid directly into a nominated Australian bank account by notifying us.

All reinvested distributions are reinvested at the price next calculated after the income distribution is made. There is no buy-sell spread associated with income reinvestment.

If you are an Indirect Investor through a master trust or wrap account, distributions are paid to the operator on your behalf.

Please note that, whilst the Fund will generally distribute income as specified above, there is no guarantee that income will be available in any distribution period.

Cooling Off Rights

If you are a retail client, you have a cooling off period to reconsider your investment. If you decide to exercise your cooling off rights, we must receive your written request within 14 days from the earlier of the date you receive your application confirmation or five business days after you become an investor in the Fund. Your request must state that you are exercising your cooling off rights. The amount payable to you may be different to the amount you invested. Adjustments may be made for tax and administration costs and to reflect any change in unit prices since your investment was made. Indirect Investors investing through a platform should consult the PDS of the platform operator in relation to cooling-off terms.

9. Tax

The following summary of Australian taxation matters is a general guide in relation to the Australian taxation implications applicable to the Fund for Australian resident unitholders who hold their units in the Fund on capital account. It is intended as an outline of some of the Australian tax issues which may affect an investment in the Fund and should not be relied upon as a complete statement of all the potential tax considerations which may arise upon investing in the Fund.

The summary is based on the Australian tax laws as at the date of this PDS. The Australian tax laws are subject to continual change, and as the tax treatment applicable to particular unitholders may differ, it is recommended that all unitholders seek their own professional advice on the taxation implications before investing in the Fund.

Non-residents should seek specific advice from their tax advisers on the Australian tax implications of investing in the Fund.

Attribution Managed Investment Trust (AMIT) regime

The Responsible Entity has elected for the Attribution Managed Investment Trust (AMIT) rules to apply to the Fund from 1 July 2017. Accordingly, provided the Fund is an AMIT for a year of income, the Fund will be subject to the AMIT regime. The AMIT legislation applies an attribution model where the Responsible Entity attributes trust components of a particular character to unitholders on a fair and reasonable basis consistent with the operation of the Fund's Constitution, which includes provisions in relation to the AMIT regime.

The key features of the AMIT rules are:

- Each year the Fund's determined trust components of assessable income, exempt income, non-assessable non-exempt income and tax offsets will be allocated to investors on a "fair and reasonable" attribution basis, rather than being allocated proportionally based on each investor's present entitlement to the income of the trust. Investors who are attributed trust components from the Fund will receive an AMIT member annual statement ("AMMA statement") detailing relevant taxation information for the year.
- Where the Fund's determined trust components for a year are revised in a subsequent year (e.g. due to differences between estimated and actual of income), unders and overs may arise. Unders and overs will generally be carried forward and adjusted in the year they are discovered.
- Where the cash distribution made for a year is less than or more than certain taxation components attributed to investors, the cost base of an investor's units may be increased or decreased. Details of cost base adjustment will be included on an investor's annual tax statement, which is referred to as an AMIT Member Annual Statement (AMMA).

- In certain circumstances, income and gains may be attributed to a specific investor (eg a share of undistributed year to date income, and gains on disposal of assets to fund a large redemption, being attributed to the redeeming investor).
 - A choice is available to treat individual classes of units as separate AMITs (so that, for example, losses of one class will not be offset against the income of another class).
 - In certain circumstances (e.g. failure to comply with certain AMIT rules), specific penalties may be imposed.

If the Fund does not qualify as an AMIT for a year of income (,e.g. the Fund does not qualify as a Managed Investment Trust for the income year) Australian resident investors will be taxed on a share of the net taxable income of the Fund in proportion to their share of the distributable income of the Fund to which they are presently entitled for the year. Investors who are entitled to a distribution from the Fund will receive an annual tax statement detailing relevant taxation information for the year. On the basis that Unitholders are presently entitled to all of the trust income, the Responsible Entity should not be assessed on the net income of the Fund.

In the case where the Fund makes a loss for Australian tax purposes, the Fund cannot distribute the tax loss to unitholders. However, the tax loss may be carried forward by the Fund for offset against taxable income of the Fund in subsequent years, subject to the operation of the trust loss rules.

Unitholder tax considerations for resident investors

The tax consequences for Australian resident investors will depend on the trust components of assessable income, exempt income, non-assessable non-exempt income and tax offsets (i.e. credits) attributed to them under the AMIT regime. The attributed trust components retain their tax character in the hands of investors even where amounts are not distributed in cash.

Where the distribution made is less than (or more than) the certain tax components attributed to investors, then the cost base of an investor's units may be increased (or decreased). Details of cost base adjustments will be included on an investor's AMMA statement.

You may be entitled to franking credits which arise from franked dividends received in respect of the Fund's investment in Australian shares (if applicable). Subject to various eligibility criteria, including the holding period rule, you can use the credits to reduce your tax liability on your attributed income of the Fund or your other assessable income. Excess franking credits may be refundable to resident individuals and complying superannuation entities, and in certain circumstances may give rise to tax losses for companies.

The Fund has made the managed investment trust (MIT) capital gains tax (CGT) election, and subject to continuing to satisfy the eligibility requirements to be a MIT for an income year, will hold its eligible assets (including equities, and units in other trusts, but excluding derivatives and foreign exchange contracts) on capital account. The capital account election will continue to apply to the Fund under the AMIT regime.

Your attributed trust components of the Fund may include a net capital gain of the Fund, where the Fund holds its assets on capital account or where the Fund holds units in other fund(s) which distribute capital gains to the Fund. If you withdraw, switch or transfer any part of your investment, it is treated as a disposal and you may be subject to capital gains tax. A discount may be available in calculating the taxable amount of a capital gain where the asset has been held for twelve months or more. A capital gain distributed by the Fund may also be subject to the CGT discount. The amount of the discount is one-half for individuals and trusts, and one-third for complying superannuation entities. No CGT discount is available for a corporate investor.

Foreign income

The Fund may derive income from sources outside Australia. Your attributed or distributed income amount of the gross foreign income will be treated as foreign income in your hands. You may be entitled to a foreign income tax offset for foreign tax paid by the Fund in respect of the foreign income received by the Fund.

Controlled Foreign Company (CFC) & Foreign Hybrid Rules

The CFC rules may apply to certain interests in foreign companies where controlling interests are held by one or more Australian residents (including the Fund), in certain circumstances.

Under the CFC rules, the net (taxable) income of the Fund may include the Fund's share of a CFC's attributable income (generally passive income) for a year on an accruals basis, even though the income has not been distributed by the CFC. Further, if a CFC or an investment in a limited partnership is considered to be a 'foreign hybrid' under Australian tax law, the foreign hybrid partnership rules may alternatively apply to include a share of partnership tax income in the taxable income to the Fund. A holding of at least 10% is generally required to be an "attributable taxpayer" under the CFC rules, or to qualify certain investments in foreign entities as a foreign hybrid. However, it is generally expected that the Fund's interests in foreign companies and limited partnerships will not be CFC interests or foreign hybrids. If applicable, the Responsible Entity will monitor the concentration of Australian (or Australian associated) ownership of any foreign companies and limited partnerships to determine if any income attribution under the CFC rules or foreign hybrid rules is required.

Taxation of Financial Arrangements (TOFA) regime

The TOFA rules may apply to certain "financial arrangements" held by the Fund. In broad terms, in calculating the net (taxable) income of the Fund, returns on certain financial arrangements may be recognised on an accruals basis rather than a realisation basis, and on revenue account. The administrator of the Fund will assist the Responsible Entity with compliance with the TOFA rules, as required by the tax legislation.

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act

The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) is US tax law that requires Foreign Financial Institutions (FFIs) to comply with a number of additional compliance obligations in order to ensure that 30% FATCA withholding tax is not deducted from certain US sourced income.

Investors should seek professional advice with respect to the tax implications arising from their unit holding.

Australian Inter-Governmental Agreement

On 28 April 2014, an Inter-Governmental Agreement (IGA) was signed between Australia and the US. The FATCA regime has been applicable in Australia since 1 July 2014.

Generally speaking the Fund will fall within the definition of an FFI for FATCA purposes. Accordingly, the Responsible Entity may be required to request unitholders to provide additional information, and report annually to the ATO on US reportable accounts, in order to comply with its compliance obligations under the FATCA.

Common Reporting Standards (CRS)

Australia has implemented the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development's (OECD) approach for the automatic exchange of information (the Common Reporting Standard or "CRS") by "financial institutions" (as defined for CRS purposes) on non-resident account holders or investors. The CRS is also known as "global FATCA".

The CRS applies to Australian financial institutions from 1 July 2017. Generally speaking the Fund will fall within the definition of a "financial institution" for CRS purposes.

Accordingly, the Responsible Entity may be required to request unitholders to provide additional information, and report annually to the ATO on non-resident reportable accounts, in order to comply with its compliance obligations under the CRS.

Tax reform

The comments noted above are based on the taxation legislation and administrative practice as at the issue date of the PDS, together with changes to the taxation legislation as announced by the Government. However, it should be noted that the Australian tax system is in a continuing state of reform, and based on the Government's reform agenda, reform is likely to escalate rather than diminish. Any reform of a tax system creates uncertainty, whether it be uncertainty as to the full extent of announced reforms, or uncertainty as to the meaning of new law that is enacted pending interpretation through the judicial process.

These reforms may impact on the tax position of the Fund and its investors. Accordingly, it will be necessary to closely monitor the progress of these reforms, and it is strongly recommended that investors seek their own professional advice, specific to their own circumstances, of the taxation implications of investing in the Fund.

Australian Taxation of Non-Resident Investors

Australian withholding tax may be withheld from distributions of Australian source income and gains paid or attributed to a non-resident investor. Based on the Fund's investment profile, non-resident investors holding their units on capital account should not generally be subject to Australian capital gains tax on the disposal of units in a Fund unless the units were capital assets held by the investor in carrying on a business through a permanent establishment in Australia. Australian tax may apply in certain circumstances if the non-resident holds their units on revenue account

From 1 July 2016, a new non-final withholding tax was introduced on the acquisition of certain taxable Australian property from foreign residents. The obligation applies to a transaction involving, for example, the acquisition of an indirect Australian real property interest, such as a membership interest in a 'land-rich' company or trust. On-market transactions however are excluded from the withholding regime. For contracts entered into on or after 1 July 2017, the non-final withholding tax rate is 12.5%.

The Responsible Entity recommends that non-resident investors seek independent tax advice in relation to these issues if required.

Tax File Numbers (TFN) and Australian Business Numbers (ABN)

It is not compulsory for an Australian investor to quote their TFN or ABN. If an Australian investor is making this investment in the course of a business or enterprise carried on by the investor, the investor may quote an ABN instead of a TFN. Failure by an investor to quote an ABN or TFN or claim an exemption may cause the Responsible Entity to withhold tax at the top marginal rate plus the Medicare Levy, on gross payments including distributions of income to the investor. The investor may be able to claim a credit in the investors' tax return for any TFN/ABN tax withheld. By quoting their TFN or ABN, the investor authorises the Responsible Entity to apply it in respect of all the investor's investments with the Responsible Entity. If the investor does not want to quote their TFN or ABN for some investments, the Responsible Entity should be advised.

Goods and Services Tax (GST)

The Fund is registered for GST. The issue or withdrawal of units in the Fund and where applicable the receipt of any distributions are not subject to GST.

The Fund may be required to pay GST included in management and other fees, charges, costs and expenses incurred by the Fund. However, to the extent permissible, the Responsible Entity will claim on behalf of the Fund a proportion of this GST as a reduced input tax credit.

Unless otherwise stated, fees and charges quoted in this PDS are inclusive of GST and take into account any available reduced input tax credits.

To the extent that the Fund is investing in international securities, the Fund may be entitled to as yet undetermined additional input tax credit on the fees, charges or costs incurred. If the Responsible Entity is unable to claim input tax credits on and/or reduced input tax credits on behalf of the Fund, the Responsible Entity retains the ability to recover the entire GST component of all fees and charges.

Unitholders should seek professional advice with respect to the GST consequences arising from their unit holding.

10. Additional Information

Our Legal Relationship with Investors

The Constitution provides the framework for the operation of the Fund, and together with the PDS and the Corporations Act 2001, sets out our relationship with investors. A copy of the Constitution is available free of charge on request.

However, remember that when you invest through a platform you do not become an investor in the Fund.

Some of the provisions in the Constitution are discussed elsewhere in the PDS. Others relate to:

- how we must calculate unit prices
- our powers – which are very broad – and how and when we exercise them
- our ability to refuse applications and transfers
- calling, attending and voting at unitholder meetings
- when we are not liable to investors
- changing the Constitution
- when we can terminate the Fund or retire as Responsible Entity, and what happens if we do (if we terminate the Fund, investors share the net proceeds from us selling the underlying assets).

We are not liable for any loss unless we fail to comply with our duties under the Corporations Act 2001 and the Constitution. An investor's liability is limited by the Constitution to the value of their units, however this position has not yet been fully tested in Australian courts

We may amend the Constitution if we consider that the amendment will not adversely affect investors' rights. Otherwise, the Constitution may be amended by way of a special resolution of investors.

We may change the terms of the PDS, but will notify investors of any material changes.

Unit Classes

The Fund may offer different classes of units. Identical rights attach to all units within a class. However, the rights and obligations attaching to different classes of units may vary, and are set out in the Constitution and the relevant offer document.

If you are an Indirect Investor, your first point of contact is the operator of your master trust or wrap account.

Compliance Plan and Compliance Committee

The Fund has a compliance plan which describes the measures that we undertake to ensure compliance with the Corporations Act 2001 and the Constitution. A Compliance Committee with a majority of independent members has been established by us to oversee compliance with the Constitution and the Corporations Act 2001.

Consents

SSAL, PwC and MBL have given, and have not withdrawn before the date of this PDS, their written consent to be named in this PDS for the Fund in the form and context in which they are named. Except as otherwise stated in this PDS, the service providers listed above have been named for information purposes only. They have not been involved in the preparation of this PDS and do not accept any responsibility or liability for any information contained in this PDS.

Disclosing entity

If the Fund has 100 or more investors it will be a disclosing entity for the purposes of the Corporations Act 2001 and will be subject to regular reporting and disclosure requirements. Copies of documents lodged with ASIC in relation to the Fund may be obtained from ASIC. Where the Fund is a disclosing entity we will comply with our continuous disclosure obligations under the law by publishing material information about the Fund at <https://russellinvestments.com/au/disclosures> on our website, in accordance with ASIC's good practice guidance for website disclosure. For a Fund that is a disclosing entity, you can also obtain the annual and half year financial reports which were most recently lodged with ASIC and other information from our website. We encourage you to regularly check our website for new information that may be relevant to your investment.

Investor Identification and Verification

In making an application for units investors must provide and we must verify specified proofs of identity. Refer to the Client Account Manual and associated forms for further details of the information and identification that is required. The Client Account Manual and associated forms can be obtained by contacting Russell Investments Fund Operations.

The protection of your investments is an important matter. We have investor identification and verification procedures (ID Procedures) in place to manage risks associated with fraud and unauthorised transactions. At times these procedures may cause inconvenience or delay to you. Please remember that the procedures are applied to safeguard your investments.

In addition, under Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing (AML/CTF) legislation, we are required to establish and enforce appropriate risk control programs with accompanying ID Procedures and transaction monitoring procedures. The procedures require investors to provide satisfactory proof of identity which must be verified before an application for units can be accepted. The ID Procedures may also require us, from time to time, to re-verify that information or request additional identification, or related information, from you before we can process a requested transaction on your behalf.

As noted in section 9 'Tax', the Responsible Entity may be required to request unitholders to provide additional information in order to comply with FATCA and CRS compliance obligations.

We do not accept any liability for any loss you may incur (whether by delay in acceptance of an application; transaction processing or otherwise), arising from the application of our ID Procedures.

If you invest in the Fund through a platform, you will need to comply with your platform operator's investor identification and verification procedures.
