Fund commentary

The Russell Investments High Growth Fund outperformed the benchmark in the March quarter.

The Fund's global and domestic equity portfolios contributed positively to performance over the period. In terms of global equities, the Russell Investments Tax Effective Global Shares Fund and the Russell Investments Global Opportunities Fund delivered positive excess returns for the quarter, driven in part by strong performances from their Japan and UK equity specialists. A bias toward value also contributed to returns as investors continued to rotate out of growth-oriented names in favour of more cyclical, cheaper value stocks. The Russell Investments Multi-Asset Factor Exposure Fund also performed well, benefiting largely from its value exposure. Within our Australian equity portfolio, the Russell Investments Australian Shares Core Fund, the Russell Investments Australian Opportunities Fund and the Russell Investments Australian Factor Exposure Fund recorded strong excess returns for the quarter. All three funds benefited from their pro-cyclical biases and a preference for value stocks. The Fund's credit exposure was also positive for the quarter; notably global high-yield debt. Our exposures to global listed property and the Russell Investments Australian Floating Rate Fund added further value over the period. In contrast, our exposure to the Russell Investments Emerging Market Debt Local Currency Fund detracted from performance. Our overweight to the Japanese yen also weighed on returns after the US dollar rebounded.
