IMPORTANT NOTICE OF INTERNET AVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION STATEMENT REGARDING A RECENT MONEY MANAGER CHANGE

An Information Statement regarding a recent money manager change related to the Russell Global Opportunistic Credit Fund (the “Fund”), a series of Russell Investment Company (“RIC”), is available for your review. This Notice presents only an overview of the more complete Information Statement that is available to you on the internet or by mail. We encourage you to access and review all of the important information contained in the Information Statement.

The Fund is not soliciting proxy or consent authority, but is furnishing an Information Statement pursuant to Rule 14a-16 and 14c-2 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

The Information Statement details a recent money manager change related to the Fund. Specifically, the Board of Trustees of RIC (the “Board”) has approved the selection of Axiom Alternative Investments SARL to serve as a new money manager to the Fund. This change became effective on March 16, 2016.

RIC's investment adviser is Russell Investment Management Company (“RIMCo”). The Information Statement is being provided to you in lieu of a proxy statement pursuant to the terms of an exemptive order granted to RIMCo and RIC by the Securities and Exchange Commission. The order permits RIMCo to hire a money manager at any time, subject to the approval of the Fund's Board, without a shareholder vote. Shareholders of the Fund must be provided with specified information within 90 days of the hiring of any new money manager. The order allows the Fund, in lieu of physical delivery of the Information Statement, to make the Information Statement available online.

The full Information Statement will be available on RIC's website at <http://hosted.rightprospectus.com/Russell/> until at least 90 days after this notice was sent to you. A paper or email copy of the full Information Statement or other Fund related information may be obtained, without charge, by calling 1-800-787-7354 or emailing service@russell.com.

If you want to receive more information regarding this recent money manager change, you may request a paper or email copy of the Information Statement per the instructions above. You must request a paper copy of the Information Statement by the 90th day after this notice was sent to you in order to receive timely delivery.

There is no charge to you for requesting a copy.

INFORMATION STATEMENT
RUSSELL GLOBAL OPPORTUNISTIC CREDIT FUND

Under the terms of an exemptive order (the “Order”) issued by the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”), this document is an Information Statement and is being furnished to shareholders of the Russell Global Opportunistic Credit Fund (the “Fund”), a series of Russell Investment Company (“RIC”). Russell Investment Management Company (“RIMCo”) serves as the investment adviser of the Fund.

The Fund allocates most of its assets among multiple money managers unaffiliated with RIMCo. Assets not allocated to money managers are managed by RIMCo. RIMCo, as the Fund’s adviser, may change the allocation of the Fund’s assets at any time. The Order permits RIMCo to hire a money manager at any time, subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees of RIC (the “Board”), without a shareholder vote. Pursuant to the terms of the Order, the Fund is required to notify its shareholders within 90 days of when a new money manager is hired for the Fund.

Change of Money Manager

On March 1, 2016, the Board authorized the signing of a portfolio management contract to engage Axiom Alternative Investments SARL (“Axiom”) to manage the investment and reinvestment of a portion of the assets of the Fund assigned to them by RIMCo.

Portfolio Management Contract

Effective March 1, 2016, RIMCo, as fiduciary for RIC, entered into a new portfolio management contract with Axiom. The contract will continue until August 31, 2017. Thereafter, the contract will continue in effect for successive annual periods if its continuance has been specifically approved at least annually by RIC’s Board, including the affirmative vote of a majority of the Trustees who are not parties to the contract, or “interested persons” (as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940) of any such party, cast in person at a meeting called for the purpose of considering such approval. The contract is automatically terminated if assigned. The contract may be terminated without payment of any penalty by RIMCo or RIC immediately upon written notice to Axiom and by Axiom upon 30 days’ written notice to RIMCo.

Board Approval of Portfolio Management Contract

In evaluating the portfolio management contract with Axiom, the Board considered that the Fund, in employing a manager-of-managers method of investment, operates in a manner that is distinctly different from most other investment companies. In the case of most other investment companies, an advisory fee is paid by the investment company to its adviser which in turn, employs and compensates individual portfolio managers to make specific securities selections consistent with the adviser’s style and investment philosophy. In the case of the Fund, an advisory fee is paid by the Fund to RIMCo which in turn compensates the money manager firms hired to make specific securities selections.

The Board considered that RIMCo (rather than any money manager) is responsible under the investment advisory agreement for determining, implementing and maintaining the investment program for the Fund. Assets of the Fund generally have been allocated among the multiple money managers.

RIMCo is responsible for selecting, subject to Board approval, money managers for the Fund and for actively managing allocations and reallocations of assets among the money managers. The Board has been advised that RIMCo’s goal is to construct and manage diversified portfolios in a risk aware manner. Each money manager for the Fund in effect performs the function of an individual portfolio manager who is responsible for selecting portfolio securities for the portion of the Fund assigned to it by RIMCo (each, a “segment”) in accordance with the Fund’s applicable investment objective, policies and restrictions, any constraints placed by RIMCo upon its selection of portfolio securities and the money manager’s specified role in the Fund. RIMCo is responsible for communicating performance expectations to each money manager; supervising compliance by each money manager with the Fund’s investment objective and policies; authorizing money managers to engage in certain investment strategies for the Fund; and recommending annually to the Board whether portfolio management contracts should be renewed, modified or terminated. In addition to its annual recommendation as to the renewal, modification or termination of portfolio management contracts, RIMCo is responsible for recommending to the Board the additions of new money managers or terminations or replacements of existing money managers at any time when, based on RIMCo's research and ongoing review and analysis, such actions are appropriate. RIMCo may impose specific investment constraints from time to time for each money manager intended to capitalize on the strengths of that money manager or to coordinate the investment activities of money managers for the Fund in a complementary manner. Therefore, RIMCo's selection of money managers is made not only on the basis of performance considerations but also on anticipated compatibility with other money managers in the Fund. In light of the foregoing, the overall performance of the Fund over appropriate periods reflects, in great part, the performance of RIMCo in designing the Fund's investment program, structuring the Fund, selecting an effective money manager with a particular investment style or sub-style for a segment that is complementary to the styles of the money managers of other Fund segments, and allocating assets among the money managers in a manner designed to achieve the objectives of the Fund.

The Board considered that the prospectus for the Fund and other public disclosures emphasize to investors RIMCo's role as the principal investment manager for the Fund, rather than the investment selection role of the Fund's money managers, and describe the manner in which the Fund operates so that investors may take that information into account when deciding to purchase shares of the Fund.

At a meeting held on March 1, 2016, the Board received a proposal from RIMCo to approve a new portfolio management contract between RIMCo and Axiom. The Trustees approved the terms of the proposed portfolio management contract with Axiom based upon RIMCo's recommendation to hire the money manager at the proposed fee rate; information as to the reason for the proposed change; information as to the money manager's role in the management of the Fund's investment portfolio (including the amount of Fund assets to be allocated to the money manager) and RIMCo's evaluation of the anticipated quality of the investment advisory services to be provided by the money manager; information as to any significant business relationships between the money manager and RIMCo or Russell Financial Services, Inc., the Fund's underwriter; the Fund's Chief Compliance Officer's evaluation of the money manager's compliance program, policies and procedures and certification that they were consistent with applicable legal standards; RIMCo's explanation as to the lack of relevance of money manager profitability to the evaluation of portfolio management contracts with money managers because the willingness of the money manager to serve in such capacity depends upon arm's-length negotiations with RIMCo; RIMCo's awareness of the standard fee rates charged by the money manager to other clients; RIMCo's belief that the proposed investment advisory fees would be reasonable in light of the anticipated quality of investment advisory services to be rendered; and the expected costs of transitioning Fund assets. The Trustees considered information provided by RIMCo that, based on Fund assets of approximately $1.7 billion (as of September 2015), the proposed changes would increase by approximately $66,592 the aggregate money manager fees to be paid by RIMCo from its investment advisory fee as a result of the engagement of the money manager and, as a result, decrease its profitability from its relationship with the Fund. The Trustees' approval also reflected their findings at prior meetings, including their July 29, 2014 meeting, where the Fund's existing advisory agreement with RIMCo was approved, and their December 16, 2015 meeting, where a new advisory agreement with RIMCo was approved for a two-year period following a change in control of RIMCo, as well as information received throughout the course of the year, regarding the reasonableness of the aggregate investment advisory fees paid by the Fund, and the fact that the aggregate investment advisory fees paid by the Fund would not increase as a result of the implementation of the proposed money manager changes because the money manager's investment advisory fees are paid by RIMCo.

Compensation

Under its advisory agreement with RIC, RIMCo receives an advisory fee from the Fund for its services. From its advisory fee, RIMCo, as agent for RIC, pays all Fund money managers for their investment selection services. The remainder of the fee is retained by RIMCo as compensation for its services and to pay expenses. Quarterly, each Fund money manager, including Axiom, is paid a pro rata portion of its annual fee, based on the monthly average of all the assets allocated to it. The annual rate of the advisory fees payable by the Fund to RIMCo as a percentage of the average daily net assets of the Fund is 1.00% (estimated to be $17,600,399 based on an assumed average asset level of $1,760,039,871 for the twelve months ended October 31, 2015, RIC's fiscal year end). Prior to the changes described herein, the aggregate annual rate of the advisory fees payable by RIMCo to the Fund's money managers was approximately 0.35% (estimated to be $6,160,140 based on the same asset level). Giving effect to the changes described in this notice including any changes to the target allocation of Fund assets among the Fund's money managers and RIMCo, as applicable, the aggregate annual advisory fee payable by RIMCo to the Fund's money managers would have been approximately 0.36% (estimated to have been $6,336,144 based on the same asset level). Because the money managers' investment advisory fees are paid by RIMCo, the aggregate investment advisory fees paid by the Fund to RIMCo will not increase as a result of the changes described herein.

For the most recently completed fiscal year, the Fund paid no aggregate commissions to brokers affiliated with Axiom.

The money managers may use brokerage commissions to pay for soft dollar research services. Any such use will be in accordance with Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.
