

Russell Investments Emerging Markets Equity Fund

Article 8

Fund Objective

The Fund aims to achieve long term growth by investing in the shares of companies in emerging markets or companies that carry out a majority of their business in emerging markets. The Fund is actively managed with reference to the MSCI Emerging Markets Index (USD) - Net Returns (the Index) which it seeks to outperform by 2% over the medium to long term. Russell Investments/ Money Managers have full discretion to select investments for the Fund. This product is an Article 8 product, as defined under EU regulation - it promotes environmental or social characteristics and invests in companies that follow good governance practices. This product does not have sustainable investment as its objective.

Fund Update

The Fund underperformed the benchmark in July. Positive exposure to value and small-mid capitalisation stocks suited the market environment although exposure to momentum was unrewarded. An underweight to and negative selection within India was a key detractor this period, particularly within the information technology sector. Selection was also unrewarded within China. An overweight to and selection within Brazil (industrials) and South Africa (materials) mitigated additional underperformance. Pzena and the Russell Investments Positioning Strategy also contributed positively.
